

ABOUT COOKIES

This website uses cookies. A cookie is a small text file sent to be stored on the user's computer. Cookies do not harm the users' computers or files.

The website uses session-specific cookies. Session-specific cookies are stored in the browser's memory while it is used, but are deleted once the browser is closed. Only the session cookies of new visitors and those returning to the site will be stored.

Cookies are used for collecting the following data:

- the user's IP address
- time
- pages visited
- browser type
- the web address from which the user arrived to Haikko.fi website
- the server from which the user arrived to Haikko.fi website
- which domain name the user has visited before arriving at Haikko.fi website.

Haikon Kartano uses the data for improving the performance and content of its website.

Most browser software enable the rejection of cookies. This can be done by for example selecting "Tools" - "Internet options" and "Privacy" from the menu bar of the Internet Explorer.

It is noteworthy that some services do not function properly without cookies.